AUCTION SALE.

OFFICE OF

Geoffrey Charlton Adams

NUMISMATIST

NEW YORK, U. S. A.

DEAR SIR:

Joseph Armstrong Temple, formerly of Texas, but now a resident of New York City, commenced collecting in 1850, and with a single break of four years, during which time he was serving as a soldier in the Southern Army, he pursued his hobby to the exclusion of every other pleasure that a man can get out of life. The result of his attention to Numismatics, we have the pleasure of presenting to you at Public Auction. Mr. Temple who has been a bidder at nearly every important Auction Sale that has taken place within the past thirty years, has never purchased a single coin that was not strictly up to the high standard of condition that he set for himself when he first commenced. Consequently it can be confidently said that among his coins there will be found fewer pieces in ordinary condition, than in any sale that we have hitherto offered.

Of course there are some rarities that are never found in extra fine or even good condition, but Mr. Temple has obtained in such cases, better than average specimens, and in some cases much better than those that repose in the collections of our richest Numismatists. We will not expatiate on the rarities in this lot, merely remarking En Passant, that the encased postage stamps will compare very favorably with any collection of these rare and interesting tokens, that has ever been offered at auction. And the best of it is, that the pedigree of each and every one of them can be traced, and their genuineness guaranteed. In fact it has been a hobby with Mr. Temple to keep a record of where and when, and from whom he purchased each and every coin in his collection. On second thonghts, however, we cannot close without saying, that no matter how advanced a collector you may be, you can either add to, or better your collection from the superb coins in this sale, while to the blase collector, the one who has "Conquered Worlds and no longer sighs for more Worlds to conquer" the unique pieces offered will, no doubt, stir his sluggish blood a little and make him "sit up and take notice."

Very truly yours,

GEOFFREY CHARLTON ADAMS.

AMERICAN COLONIALS

146 Connecticut, Granby. Three pence 1737, deer st'dg. R. 3 cwnd hammers in circle; * Connecticut 1737: Very good, near fine, light brown. Unique, not in Crosby

Mr. S. S. Crosby, author of "Early Coins of America," the standard authority on the subject, says, regarding the above coin: "I have no doubt of the genuineness of the 'Granby' copper which you submit me to-day, and I know of no better identification than a specification of the points of difference between it and any other that I have ever seen or heard of. I enclose rubbings of the only three dies known to Numismatists. The most obvious difference is in the distance of the last two Es in THREE. In No. 1 the base line on which the deer stands reaches from near the middle of H to top of C in PENCE. In No. 2 it starts in from near the upper foot of H to C, and reaches nearly to foot of N in PENCE. In No. 3 the line goes from top of H to foot of N. In your coin the line starts from near the upper part of H to C, but lower than in No. 2, which piece it most nearly resembles. I have never seen an impression from the die from which your piece was struck, and I regard it as unquestionably genuine. I regard all the Granby coppers as being among the rarest of American coins." Dr. Thomas Hall, of Boston, the eminent Numismatist, and who has probably the finest collection of American Colonial Coins in existance, says: "The coin is undoubtedly genuine." This piece is offered without reserve, under full guarantee.

147 American Colonials. Immunis Columbia 1787. Liberty setd on globe r., holds balance and flag. R. spread eagle, v. good, nearly fine, extremely rare. Crosby, Pl. VIII, No. 8

148 1795, Talbot Allen and Lee. Ship sailing r. R. Liberty stdg, near unc. scarce. Crosby, Pl. IX, No. 20

149 1794, same, but with "New York" above ship, large E on obv. only, bowsprit point to forward of last E in Lee, broken die, good to v. good, rare var. Crosby, Pl. IX, No. 19

150 Virginia, 1773, no dot after "Georgivs," ex. fine Crosby, Pl. IX, No. 11, scarce

151 — same, dot after "Geo." v. good, v. scarce

152 Louisiana, Col. Franc, sceptres cwnd, c. s. "R. F." Very good, nearly fine, scarce condition

153 Mass. 1787 Half Cent, single dash, 9 arrows, 3 pointing below wing, v. fine, v. rare

154 Nova Constellateo, 1785, radient eye, four to six points of wrth joined by die break, v. good Crosby B, obv. 3

155 Hawaii, 1847, bust facing "Kamehameha III," Kamoi, R. wrth, brill. unc. red

156 New Jersey (no date), horse head r. and plow, under plow where date should be is I H, R. shield, * E * Plu—Georgevs—U N—evidently struck over an Irish half penny of Geo. III. V. good, we know of none other, so it is presumably unique

157 Mass. Pine Tree Shilling 1652. V. good, but holed just after IN. Crosby obv. 20 R. L. Very rare

158 — Pine Tree Sixpence 1652 "NEW ENGLAND, ANO." Crosby, Pl. 2, No. 20 One of the finest specimens we have ever offered Very rare

159 1787. Fugio, sun dial. R. 13 connected links. "WE ARE ONE," in center within circular zone, inscribed UNITED above and STATES below, uncirculated, red, excessively rare. Mr. Crosby, page 300, Pl. VII, No. 4, portrays this coin and says: "In one die, from which we know of but 3 impressions, 'United' is above and 'States' below."

160 American Colonials. Florida, James II, 1685-88, 1-12 Real, the king mounted. V. good to fine, original, scarce, pewter

161 1783, Washington and Independence, bust l R. Liberty seated, "United States" engrailed edge, brill. pf, restrike

162 1686, Bust l. "Colonel Piercie Kirk." R. Brit. set'd "Briton's Own Happy Isles," brill. pf, probably restrike

162a CAROLINA. obv. in six lines, GOD: PRESERVE: CAROLINA: AND THE: LORDS: PROPRIETORS [over ERS] 1694. R. an elephant. Excessively rare. Good and evenly struck speciman of this, one of the rarest Colonials, so seldom found except in poor condition. The Bushnell copy brought $80.

576 — — Same, 12c, v. fine, from circulation, San Antonio, Tex., 1872.

577 Drake's Plantation Bitters, 24c, very fine, as this piece and the two following are presumably unique, we deem that the full history of the same will be interesting. They came from the well known Banker of Antrim, N. H., Mr. C. B. Cochran, who purchased them about the year 1880, from Mr. J. B. Woodbury, a merchant of Antrim of forty years standing. Mr. Woodbury received them direct from the Drake firm, and had them on exhibition in his store for many years prior to his death. As the values were higher than the usual ones found in circulation, Mr. Cochran kept them as curios, 'till they passed into the hands of our client. Though the extreme rarity of these three pieces is beyond doubt, yet they are offered without limit.
